DESCRIPTION

This child sexual abuse prevention training focuses on how family-serving professionals can support healthy behaviors by creating safe environments and rules for behavior that apply to everyone consistently. It also offers adults information about actions to take when behaviors go outside of the healthy range and how to increase protective factors to ensure that children stay safe.

Training Objectives: Increase Knowledge of

- child sexual abuse prevention,
- healthy and developmentally expected sexual behaviors in children,
- actions to take to support healthy, developmentally expected behaviors in children,
- recognizing behaviors that potentially threaten a child and how to take action,
- coaching families to build protective factors,
- available resources for families and communities.
